

Pearson

Pearson Academy India (PAI) is the services arm of Pearson Clinical and Talent Assessment (PCTA), India. PAI helps enhance psychological well-being for all individuals. Our vision is to help every individual function at their optimal capacity, whether in school, at work or in the larger society. PAI services address psychological struggles in the form of cognitive, emotional or behavioral issues that hamper an individual's personal, social and professional growth.

PAI services are used by institutions such as schools, colleges, hospitals and corporates, and individuals such as psychology, school and allied professionals. These services are available through a nationwide network of PAI centers. PAI is headquartered in Bangalore, India.

Our services:

Psychological Assessment & Intervention

Our psychological assessment & intervention services are backed by Pearson's globally-trusted and scientific solutions. With more than 80 years of test publishing experience at Pearson, many of our psychological assessments are international standards in their fields and used extensively in clinical, education and research settings.

In school, these services help identify conditions such as learning disabilities, ADHD or emotional difficulties in children, so that they can be helped with early and effective intervention that lead to better learning outcomes. At the workplace, these services help address psychological issues in employees, such as depression and anxiety, that adversely impact employee well-being and create barriers to performance.

Career Assessment & Counselling

Our career assessment & counselling services use scientific solutions to make a difference in an individual's academic, personal or professional life.

Our career assessments help students and professionals make informed career choices, by providing objective insights into their personality, aptitude and interests in relation to career. Our career counselling services are based on objective data provided by these assessments and help the individual with insights for self-improvement and career explorations.

Professional Training & Certification

Our professional learning and certification workshops empower school, mental health professionals and advanced students in psychology, education and allied fields to acquire new professional skills and expand their current skills in psychological assessment and intervention. Our workshops address important aspects of psychological well-being in school and clinical settings.
